

JAPS NOW IN DALNY FIND TOWN ON FIRE

During Interval Between Evacuation of Magic City and the Entrance of the Japanese, Bandits Took Possession and Plundered the Inhabitants.

CHEFOO, May 31.—7.30 P. M.—Five hundred Chinese refugees from Port Dalny and Tallienwan arrived here to-day.

After sifting their conflicting stories it appears that the Russians left Tallienwan May 26 for Port Arthur after burning everything likely to be of use to the Japanese. Bandits later took possession of the town and were pillaging when the Japanese cavalry appeared May 27.

On May 26 the Russians left Port Dalny, previously burning the offices and residences, destroying the railroad and scuttling three large merchantmen, the Zeid, Borela and Nagadan, and all the dredgers and launches.

Some of the refugees also say the Russians destroyed the gunboat Bobo (which is believed to have taken part in the battle of Thursday last, which resulted in the defeat of the Russians at Kinchou and Nanshan Hill), and three torpedo boats. Others say these vessels returned to Port Arthur.

The docks and piers at Dalny were not destroyed. Bandits occupied the city after the Russians left and levied tribute on the inhabitants. A Chinese contractor who had built most of Dalny for the Russians was held for ransom and his clerks were killed. The town was still burning May 28 when the refugees started for Chefoo. The Japanese had not appeared at Dalny up to that time.

One junk which was leaving Dalny was sunk by bandits and fifty persons were drowned.

The Chinese who have arrived here did not leave Dalny or Tallienwan because they were afraid of the Russians or Japanese. They fled from the bandits who entered those towns.

EXPECT TO TAKE PORT ARTHUR IN 20 DAYS.

LONDON, May 31.—June 15 has been fixed, according to trustworthy information, as the date for the Japanese attack on Port Arthur.

The Mikado's experts figure that the actual onslaught will not last longer than five days. This would mean the Japanese occupation of the city by June 20.

WOODBURY GETS HIS $300,000

Board of Aldermen, After Librally GIVING the Street Cleaning Commissioner, Grants Liberal Appropriation.

Street-Cleaning Commissioner Woodbury was led into an Aldermanic trap to-day. He was induced to appear before the Board under promise that when he had made a simple explanation of the purposes for which he needed the $300,000 appropriation, which the Board held up last week, the matter would be amicably settled.

When Commissioner Woodbury rose in the Chamber to plead his cause he was made the butt of every effort to make him appear ridiculous. The word had been passed around among the members that it would not do to refuse the Street-Cleaning Department its needed money, and that the final vote would be in favor of the appropriation. But at the same time the word was passed to poke all manner of fun, under the guise of seriousness, at the Commissioner while the debate was on.

Alderman John T. McCall opened the ball by declaring that in view of the approaching heated term he would advise that the appropriation be granted. "But," exclaimed the Alderman, "I agree with what has been said on this Board that our streets are not clean."

Alderman Moses Wafer demanded to know if the Commissioner was "crazy" with the Brooklyn Ash Company, newly organized, which was removing the ashes from the trolley company engine-rooms.

In the meantime "Tim" Sullivan and the Commissioner were in earnest conversation. "I can't do anything about it unless you make your peace with Alderman Gaffney," "Tim" Sullivan said to the Commissioner. "Well, a hell make peace with Gaffney if he will vote for my appropriation."

Alderman "Charley" Cukins, for instance, "Bring in the money, Charley Cukins and I will make peace with him, too," said the Commissioner, now quite ready to receive and make up with each member of the Board in turn it was then the promise was made that the appropriation would be granted, but he went out to "jolly the Commissioner."

Alderman Reginald S. Doul, before the vote was put, made a severe attack upon the Commissioner, declaring that the streets were never in such disgraceful condition, and adding that it cost more to run the department than at any time in its career, and with worse results. Then the word was passed around to vote in favor, and the Commissioner got his appropriation, but he was not at all happy at that when he went away.

PISTOL AS DEBT COLLECTOR.

Louis Rose tried it and is held in $1000 bail.

Joseph S. Wising, of Mohagan avenue and One Hundred and Eightieth street, was the complainant in the Morrisania Court to-day against Louis Rose, a contractor, of No. 86 East One Hundred and Eighty-seventh street, whom he charged with threatening to shoot him.

Wising told Magistrate Hogan that he had Rose do some work for him some time ago and that he found fault with the work and refused to pay the balance of the amount. Yesterday Rose went to the house to collect the remainder of the money. An argument followed, Wising said, and he alleged that Rose finally pulled out a pistol and pointed it at him.

Rose admitted pointing the pistol, but said it was a toy affair and that he had no intention of shooting any one.

"He was held in $1000 bail for three months."

SIMPLE FUNERAL FOR SENATOR QUAY

Men of National Prominence Join with Simple Folk of Mill Towns in Paying Tribute to the Political Leader.

ALL WORK SUSPENDED IN BEAVER VALLEY.

Prayers at the House Followed by Church Service—Casket Plain, in Obedience to Dead Man's Wishes.

BEAVER, Pa., May 31.—Senator Matthew S. Quay was buried with simple ceremony this afternoon, while men of national, State and local prominence and the people of Beaver Valley joined with the family in mourning the man so long a leading figure in the country's affairs.

Probably the most striking tribute was paid by the residents of the mill towns for miles around, where business was suspended. These gave up their work and made long journeys that they might pay their respects at the bier of the dead Senator.

The funeral in the home was simple and sad. There were brief services by the Rev. J. R. Ramsey, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, consisting of a prayer and a few brief words of consolation to the family. Only the immediate relatives went up to the little bedroom above the Senator's beloved library and took a last look at their dead. Mrs. Quay broke down again and wept bitterly.

Shortly before 10 o'clock, under a guard of honor from the Beaver G. A. R. Post, the body was taken to the First Presbyterian Church, where for three hours the public passed the casket. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the church was cleared, and shortly after the visiting delegations of dignitaries, including United States Senators, Governors of States and persons of local celebrity, were assigned to seats.

The family and pall-bearers followed, and at 2 o'clock the funeral services began.

A committee of the United States Senate was in charge as a guard of honor. The services were marked by simplicity. Rev. D. Appleton Bash, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, offered the opening prayer. A passage from the Scriptures was read by Rev. Mr. Fields, of the Church of Christ, and Rev. J. S. Ramsey, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, delivered the funeral oration. The closing prayer was offered by the Rev. R. P. Miller, of the United Presbyterian Church.

The organ and choir from the Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, of Pittsburgh, furnished the music, the quartet singing Senator Quay's favorite hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide with Me."

The burial was in Beaver Cemetery. Following the instructions of the Senator, the casket was a plain as possible. It was trimmed in black cloth, with handles of oxidized silver. On a silver plate is the inscription:

"Matthew Stanley Quay,
Born September 20, 1838;
Died May 28, 1904."

Beautiful floral tributes almost covered the casket. President Roosevelt sent a great wreath of American Beauty roses and white peonies with maiden hair fern interwoven.

NOT TRUE, SAYS GOULD.

Millionaire Denies that He is to Run for Congress.

BALTIMORE, May 31.—In response to an inquiry sent to him from here as to a report that he would become a candidate for Congress from a New Jersey district, George F. Gould telegraphed from New York to-day:

"No truth whatever in the report."

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the House for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR. AND MRS. J. O. ATKINSON, INDEPENDENCE, MO.

UNDER date of January 10, 1907, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife had been suffering from a complication of diseases for the past 25 years. Her case had baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing."

"She also was passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life. In June, 1885, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her. She firmly believes that she would have been dead only for these wonderful remedies."

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of 25 years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions, and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me."

"Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more. Catarrh does not exist where Peruna is taken according to directions. Success to you and your remedies."

John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peruna:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. In my rounds as a travelling man I am a walking advertisement for Peruna and have induced many people during the past year to use Peruna with the most satisfactory results. I am still cured of catarrh."

John O. Atkinson, Box 272, Independence, Mo.

When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safeguard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that meets these cases exactly.

Such cases cannot be treated locally; nothing but an effective systemic remedy could cure them. This is exactly what Peruna is.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
